How can I avoid Shippo's GPS tracking?

2019/09/10

Hello Dampire! I've heard about that social tail gadget. It consists of headset with electroencephalograph and Bluetooth module that is connected with tail to tell it how to react on your mood. The tail moves accordingly to your mood and geotags the places, where your mood changes rapidly. So it will geotag the places where you were happy or scared and share them with your friends via your smartphone. Also it will help you to find same-minded people around you, with the help of geo tagging. It uses Bluetooth to connect to your smartphone and tail - the frequency is 2.4 GHz. It also uses GPS frequencies and they are 1227.60 - 1575.42 MHz. If you are afraid of tracking with the help of that gadget - you may try our Neurowear's Shippo antitracking jamming device. Thanks for your question, I hope you'll be relaxed with our solutions! P.S. Always use your signal jamming device safely!
