ASUS USB AC-51 Adapter strange problem - [Solved]

2019/10/03

Hello everyone. Bought this thing a week ago. The impression is mixed. First, sometimes I have to re-plug it for the adapter ASUS utility to start. It just randomly won't work for no reason, the utility does not respond and Windows does not see the adapter. Second, here da magic begins. I am a Steam gamer. So, online games do have authentication on start, to auth you in the game using Steam name etc., PUBG for example. The thing is that during this process the internet connection is totally downed. So neither the game, nor everything else work. As soon as the game is closed, connection is up and good again. WTF? I thought the problem was in VPN. Nope, it happens with and without it. Once I managed to solve this by changing dns servers in VPN app and the VPN virtual adapter to custom. After reboot the problem came back. Netsock reset, flushdns etc. give no effect. Third, the most strange. I got an antivirus. Settings of its firewall are carefully done, everything ok. BUT: if you disable the firewall, the same problem as in pt. 2 happens - the connection is downed. WTF? [2] And all this didn't start instantly - these problems seem to have a strange pattern: first you can play the game without problems, then you leave the computer for some time or reboot and the issues start coming up. Tried a lot of stuff. Not a router/provider problem, I think. Asking for help very much. ASUS-H110M PLUS motherboard 8gb RAM 1050ti i5-7400 proc 500W EVGA power and no PCI wlan card windows 10 64-bit router - sercomm rv6699 the English ain't perfect, I know, pardon me please.
